

Lafayette, LA— Officials from Goldin Metals, Inc., a distributor and manufacturer of metal building components, have announced the opening of a new facility in Lafayette, LA. Family-owned since 1942, Goldin Metals is headquartered in Gulfport, MS.

“Goldin Metals, Inc. is excited about the opportunities in Lafayette that will allow us to better service our existing customers and to gain new customers in the Lafayette area and beyond with the addition of this facility,” says Jason Goldin, Goldins Metals, Inc. Executive Vice President and General Counsel.

Using state-of-the-art equipment, Goldin Metals, Inc. offers both residential and commercial steel roofing and siding panels in a variety of colors, profiles and thickness. In addition to metal roofing, Goldin Metals, Inc. has a complete line of metal building component parts available to both individuals and contractors.

The Lafayette facility will serve as a sales office, warehouse and distribution facility. Goldin Metals, Inc. has three other locations in Gulfport, MS, Mobile, AL, and Harvey, LA. The company will create three to five jobs initially at the Lafayette location.

“Small business is the bread and butter of Lafayette Parish’s business base and the Goldin family and Goldin Metals, Inc. should fit right into Lafayette’s entrepreneurial business community,” says Gregg Gothreaux, LEDA President and CEO. “Goldin Metal, Inc.’s move to Lafayette Parish is a perfect example of the ways small business can benefit from the services LEDA and our economic development allies provide. We welcome them to the community.”
